Bio

Alexandra Reichart (born 1986 in Cologne, Germany) lives and works in Cologne and Berlin.

She is designer and an emerging artist in the field between art, technology, research and design. She works primary with photography and new media on different topics such as metamorphosis, inner- & outer-body-experiences, self-determination, heteronomy and feminism.

Alexandra currently explores the synergy between different materials such as latex in combination with technology and the human individual as observing and intervening element.
